REGIONAL HIGH RECEIVES CD ALERT SYSTEM

A Civil Defense attack warning system connected to the Marion Civil Defense System has been presented to the Old Rochester Regional High School in Mattapoisett.

The attack warning system, which has a bell and a red light displayed on a panel board, was paid for by the Civil Defense funds from Mattapoisett, Marion and Rochester and is the first device of its kind to be installed in a public school in all of Southeastern Massachusetts.

It was received by Dr. Benjamin Tilden, chairman of the Old Rochester Regional School Committee.

The School Committee has commended the Civil Defense of the three towns on their cooperation in the matter of giving this excellent warning system to the Old Rochester Regional High School.

Civil Defense officials participating were Donald Linhares, CD Director, and Loren H. Mosher, assistant director, of Mattapoisett; Douglas Church, CD Director of Rochester; and Henry Backus, Jr., CD Director of Marion.

With this system, in event of an enemy attack, an alarm sent out on the Marion system will be relayed immediately to the principal's office in the school. Phone connections between CD headquarters and school in this emergency will be transmitted to the school officials.
